The Modern Slavery Act 2015 (Act) requires any commercial organisation in any sector, which supplies goods or services, and carries on a business or part of a business in the United Kingdom, and is above a specified total turnover, to produce and publish an annual slavery and human trafficking statement.

In addition to its mining activities the Company invests in retail property across the UK. Bisichi employs 207 people in the UK and in South Africa.

2. Our policies on slavery and human trafficking

- 2.1 The Company will not use or allow the use of forced, compulsory labour, slavery, servitude or human trafficking in the course of its business. This includes sexual exploitation, securing services by force, threats or deception and securing services from children and vulnerable persons.
- 2.2 The Company operates the following policies which are relevant to the prevention of slavery and human trafficking in its operations:

The policy includes plans to enfranchise stakeholders by developing skills and providing opportunity. Included in the 2017-2021 plan are plans to upgrade the facilities at local schools.

2.2.5 Whistleblowing– The Company encourages all of its employees to report any concerns related to the activities of the firm. The Company will ensure that any matter raised under this procedure will be investigated thoroughly, promptly and confidentially, and the outcome of the investigation reported back to the individual who raised the issue. Additionally, the Company will ensure that no one will be victimised for raising a matter under this procedure.

2.3 In addition, internal policies are reviewed regularly to ensure continued compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

3. Due diligence processes for slavery and human trafficking

The Company believes that in order to prevent human trafficking and slavery within its business and its supply chain it is necessary to first understand the areas where the Company is most at risk. The Company's UK property management business is not considered by the directors to be high risk area. Although the work conducted at the Black Wattle Colliery is labour intensive, the Company feels that the unionised workforce and the Company's adherence to strict employment policies has reduced the risk of modern slavery in this operation. As a consequence the Company feels its supply chain is the area that presents the most risk.

As a result of the due diligence process the Company has conducted, systems have been put in place to:

- 3.1 continue to identify and assess potential risk areas in the Company's business and supply chains;
- 3.2 to continue to adhere to, and enforce the Black Wattle Colliery's procurement policy and the Company's employment policies;
- 3.3 seek to continue the good relationship built with the employee's union in South Africa; and
- 3.4 protect whistle-blowers.

4. Supplier adherence to our values and ethics

- 4.1 To ensure contractors and those in the Company's supply chain comply with its values and ethics, the Company has in place a rigorous procurement policy.
- 4.2 In addition efforts are made to confirm that the Company's suppliers are as committed to the prevention of human trafficking and slavery as the Company, and each supplier's conduct is carefully considered when awarding or renewing business.
- 4.3 Reviews of the Company's suppliers and its supply chain profile will be conducted annually.

5. Training

To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in its supply chains and business, the Company will provide the necessary training to all relevant employees.

6. Performance indicators

The Company will use the following key performance indicators to measure how effective it is in ensuring that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in any part of its business or supply chain:

- 6.1 completion of necessary training of the policy by all relevant staff;
- 6.2 communication of the policy to suppliers; and
